The Earl games are a series of fantasy role-playing games created by Hexage, now being published by tri-Ace. In the series, the player uses a mixture of card play, dice, and player choice to play a story that has been told to them through four-color illustrated storybooks. A player's choices lead them through a role-playing experience with a fate determined by their choices. The first Earl game for PlayStation® system, Rise of the Ring, was released on September 30, 2003. To date, the series has sold over 1.5 million units in Japan and over 100,000 units in Europe. In 2006, the series for the PlayStation®2 was ported to Nintendo DS™ and released as Rise of the Dragon. RPG Gameplay: 1. LAYERED RAID DRAGON The dragon has a layered RAID EXPAND, which is divided into a layer of laying, a layer of forming, and a layer of breaking up, and as a result, deals 3 types of damage depending on the position of the enemy. The dragon attacks immediately after being formed and expands when it is attacked. 2. EVOLVE THE DRAGON HUNTER The Dragon Hunter is a new class specialized in observing dragons. When you enter the battlefield, the hunter activates the Spider web to steal the hearts of the enemies from afar, utilizing the increase in heart and soul to create the so-called DRAGON HUNTER SPIDER WEB, which is capable of dealing devastating damage to the enemies and attracting even more of them to the area, and then activates the Dragon Hunter's MASSIVE CONVERGENCE, which initiates a chain attack that continuously deals damage to multiple enemies by spreading itself, which causes it to deal more damage over time. 3. ENCHANTED BY TRESPASSION The Dragon Soul Guardian's Enchanted Power is given to the player upon entering battle, allowing the player to express their own ability to the attacks they perform. The effect will apply to the next attack. It is active if the Guardian is a Light Dragon. 4. VAST WORLD The game's area is made up of various biomes such as grasslands, deserts, and forests. As you explore the map, you will be able to discover various monuments that lay hidden in the vast world and your gaze will freely move with the gigantic world. 5. CUSTOMIZED EQUIPMENT When it comes to equipment, you can freely combine weapons, armor, and magic to customize your character. a.m. on May 6, 1999, she responded to his question, "Why were you... throwing me away?" by saying, "Because I said I loved him." S.B. also testified that defendant called her sometime during the period between April 25, and May 5, 1999. S.B. testified that defendant called her on several occasions in May 1999, asking her to come back to him. Defendant's handwritten letter, dated May 1, 1999, was admitted into evidence. In the letter, defendant wrote: "I know that when I talk about being with you, you are not listening to me, [and] you only think about what you can get. When you no longer want me, when you stop talking to me, that time when you were going to come back, you called me to say you still loved me, you can be in love." The state argues that defendant's letter is hearsay and is inadmissible. Defendant objected to the admission of the letter. "We have consistently *882 held that "[t]he rule of hearsay is not the primary barrier to the admissibility of evidence to be weighed in the overall balance.'" State v. Broderick, 243 Neb. 225, 232, 498 N.W.2d 511, 517 (1993). This court noted in Broderick that "[t]he rationale of this well-settled rule is that the evidence, while hearsay, possesses distinctive reliability, thereby justifying the exclusion of more traditional hearsay evidence." Id. If the evidence in a case is found to be admissible, the real question is whether the evidence is material and relevant to a matter properly in issue. State v. Broderick, supra; State v. Beyer, 248 Neb. 995, 540 N.W.2d 568 (1995). Assuming the letter is admissible, this court must then consider whether the letter is material and relevant to a matter properly in issue. In State v. Beyer, this court noted that "[w]hen a party seeks to admit one of his or her own letters into evidence, the court must determine whether the letter is material and relevant." 248 Neb. at 1001, 540 N.W.2d at 573. We also noted that "[m]aterial evidence is that which is related to the consequential facts of the case and has some logical tendency in reason to prove the ultimate fact in controversy." Id.
