oestradiol produces neuroprotection has been studied in mouse striatal synaptosomes treated with 1-methyl-4-phenyl-1,2,3,6-tetrahydropyridine. While 17beta-estradiol (E2) exposure, alone or in combination with a suboptimal concentration of naloxone (1 microM), significantly reduced the MPP+ (1-methyl-4-phenylpyridinium)-induced cell death, naloxone, when combined with E2, significantly reduced the protective effect of E2, suggesting that oestrogen-

Fabulous Thai food on the ship Hello, We are cruising on ACSA Harmony and are looking for somewhere good for Thai food. We don't know where to find this food while on the cruise, but found a couple of restaurants on the ship that had delicious Thai food. Keep in mind when booking that cruises like ACSA Harmony offer all-inclusive dining, meaning that most of the meals are included in the fare. If you're looking for 'real' Thai food, you're going to have to look elsewhere, but here are a few suggestions. Anti-abortion and anti-choice, but with a hint of humor Abortion should be banned. The procedure should be unmentionable, but the campaign to actually do so is, I think, going to fail. Why? First, let me say that I am a former abortion rights activist, and having been involved in the anti-choice movement for the past 15 years, I am delighted that the anti-choice extremists are losing the political argument. Both parties should move away from the far right and away from the extremist rhetoric and mental illness that threatens to take over the issues. The extreme position is not going to be politically viable. Second, despite
